What are Dippin' Dots? Dippin' Dots are tiny beads of ice cream, yogurt, sherbet and flavored ice.

How are Dippin Dots made? Dippin' Dots are beads of cryogenically frozen ice cream that are made with a combination of natural ice cream ingredients and are flash frozen into tiny beads.

Are Dippin' Dots like the ice cream the astronauts eat? No. Dippin' Dots ice cream is flash frozen and can still melt if not stored at the appropriate temperature. The foods that the astronauts eat during their space missions are freeze-dried and in the case of ice cream, do not melt.
